SOFT SKILLS IN RURAL AREAS a new approach Self-evaluation Tool (IO1) is ready!

First intellectual output, the self-evaluation tool(IO1) was successfully developed. The main object of IO1 was the identification of the 12 essential soft skills that agricultural businessmen/women need to know and implement, those which are essential today but have never been taught. Thus, this output wanted to asses and helped entrepreneurs (especially those low skilled) to discover and develop the talents that are vital to starting, growing, and sustaining a thriving enterprise. In order to reach this goal, three tasks conducted along the first 7 months of the project:

TASK 1.1: State of the art.TASK 1.2: Identification of problems, finding solutions.TASK 1.3: Self Evaluation tool in SITRA

The tool is available in 5 languages (EN, ESP, FR, PL, MK) at
